TO OUR VISITORS

HAD THE K.R.S. SPORTS GROUND been elastic, we should have asked all the clubs we play to join with us in celebrating this, to us, momentous occasion. As it is, we have had to make the hard choice of selecting seven. These have been invited from amongst our oldest and closest rugby friends. Most of the teams appear in our pre-war fixture lists, and all except two played us before the club had to close down "for the duration." Of these two, one, Mr. J. Preece's VII from the Metropolitan Police, is in a sense the successor of the Divisional team whom we played pre-war. The remaining club, the Old Mitchamians, we first met in 1947, and the two clubs may fairly be said to have fallen for one another at first meeting.

To all of the visiting teams, the Kodak R.F.C. extend their thanks for their participation this afternoon, and their best wishes for a happy and successful season in 1950/1, and in the seasons to come. In particular, we should like to wish the Old Mitchamians luck in getting a ground.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS AND THANKS

- To our Referees, Messrs. G. O'H. Power, G. H. Stanbury and G. H. Passmore, for their services, and to the London Society of R.F.U. Referees for releasing them for to-day.
- To the Rugby Football Union and Middlesex R.F.U. for permission to hold this tournament.
- To the Kodak Recreation Society for providing competitors' teas, and for general assistance.

A BRIEF HISTORY OF KODAK R.F.C.

KODAK RUGBY FOOTBALL CLUB was founded in 1937, largely owing to the energy of the late A. W. W. Petherick, our first skipper and secretary, and Fred Balch, now one of our vice-presidents, who intends to be with us this afternoon. Two sides were formed, and during the next two seasons the club steadily grew in numbers, spirit, and reputation. Then came the war.

Rugby Football was hit harder than most games, largely owing to the age-group to which most players belong, and Kodak R.F.C. was no exception. We were reduced to one side immediately, but the club managed to keep going with ever-diminishing resources, throughout the first two war seasons. In the summer of 1942 the K.R.S. Sports Ground was ploughed up in order to grow food, but the Rugger Club struggled on through the 1942/3 season, playing irregularly, mostly on Sundays, on a hired ground at Pinner. Eight players, including the redoubtable Bill Petherick, lost their lives—a severe loss to a small club only two years old at the outbreak of war.

In the summer of 1946 enough of us had returned to form the club once again, and in 1946/7 we played as a wandering side and watched the vegetables growing on the K.R.S. ground with mixed feelings. Next year we hired a council ground at East Kenton, and this, though not brilliant, gave us a home again, and enabled us to run two sides once more. Work on the restoration of the sports ground began in 1948.

To-day we return to the Sports Ground, newly drained, re-levelled, and re-sown; to a ground better than ever before, with better changing accommodation in view, and with a proper bar in the pavilion! We look forward to the future with some confidence, and with a determination to offer our visitors all that a modern lexicographer implied when he defined Rugby Football as "the world's finest outdoor cold-weather game."
